

Third Party Logistics (3PL) Provider JDF Distribution Solutions, Inc. Selects HighJump Software to Power Its Fast-Growing, Complex Operations

EDEN PRAIRIE, MN (Feb. 31) -HighJump Software, a global provider of supply chain execution solutions, has signed an agreement with Dallas based JDF Distribution Solutions, Inc., a rapidly expanding third party logistics (3PL) provider, to implement the HighJump Supply Chain Advantage software suite to support the company's warehousing, retail and high value material distribution operations. In particular, JDF will leverage the HighJump solutions for warehouse management, slotting, billing management and voice enablement to support growth initiatives and increase service levels to customers nationwide.

"JDF has grown aggressively in recent years, and now faces the challenges of significant volume growth, increasing supply chain requirements from our customers and the need for maximum cost effectiveness," said William Evanson, VP and GM of JDF Distribution Solutions, Inc. "After an extensive evaluation of products to support JDF's strategic framework, we determined that HighJump Software could provide us with the operational tools and the enterprise integration capabilities we need to support the varying needs of our customers. The HighJump solution is flexible, expandable, process driven and allows seamless interface with a variety of customer technology platforms at a highly competitive cost."

Timothy Campbell, President and CEO, HighJump Software, said, "JDF's selection of HighJump Supply Chain Advantage is a testament to how our technology sets us apart from our competition. We hear again and again that our customers select us because of our adaptable and scalable technology platform, which enables companies to react quickly to business demands and growth, leading to a low total cost of ownership."

JDF will initially deploy the HighJump system to support its 270,000 square-foot Dallas, Texas, facility followed by planned expansion to sites on the east and west coasts.
